APPLAUSE, APPLAUSE!

Tonights' production is being underwritten by a generous grant from the Kansas Arts Excellence Program of the Southwestern Bell Foundation.

Most of us think of Corporate responsibility only when we experience a mechanical breakdown the day after the warranty expires. However, there is another kind of corporate responsiveness at work in our lives and we need to pay tribute to it tonight.

Throughout its history, the Iola Community Theatre has received support and encouragement from our business friends and neighbors. These gifts of goods and services have been given to us because our good corporate citizens have assumed an obligation to improve the quality of life in their communities. The debt we owe them is enormous and we can only repay it by offering a bit of entertainment and pleasure to their clients - our audience. Therefore, if you enjoy tonight's performance please remember that your business community helped to make it possible. Let them know you appreciate it.

Furthermore, the next time you see a Southwestern Bell truck give them a round of applause. They're one of us!

Please, no pictures may be taken during this performance.
